"EVERYWOMAN" Seats Are Now on Sale For This

Speciacle.

The extraordinary success of the dramatic speciacle, "Everywoman" in several European countries as well as in America, sereca to endow with in-terest the announcement that Henry W. Savage will offer his production at the Anderson theatre December "Everywoman" is an absolutely novel idea in theatricals and is difficult of classification. It is not, properly speaking, drama, although it contains the elements of drama-tense situations with powerful dramatic scenes; it is not opera, though in its texture there are twenty-six musical numbers of serious and dig-nified character; and it is not wholly spectacle, though in recent years no other production has been mounted so lavishly and with such utter disregard for cost. It has been largely a labor of love on the part of the pro-cacer, Heary W. Savage, for astute man gers could not see, during the long months of preparation preceding the first performance, how one with such unerring judgment could risk an outlay of upward of sixty thousand dollars on an experiment—for "Everywoman" was entirely without precedent. That Mr. Savage's judgment was correct has been proven by the enormous success which has been achieved by "Everywoman." It is safe to assert that no other pro-duction within the memory of the duction within the memory of the present day theatre goor has aroused such interest or has earned so much written and spoken approval. The pages of the magazines have been filled with reviews and critical esti-mates of the work; ministers, priest and rabbis have chosen it as the subject of their discourses, and the theatres where it has been played have been engulfed by humanity rush in to see the extraordinary play. Walter Browne, the author, whose tragic death on the morning of the day of the first performance of the work upon which he had labored ten years, found his inspiration in "Everywoman," the ancient morality which was performed through

It told in salted and ornate periods of the certain fate that awaits every man. It was gloomy, morose and morbid. "Everywoman," on the othman. er hand, is entertainment. It has a deep undercurrent of philosophy and conveys a message, biting at times with its grim satire, but it amuses while it instructs.

The idea is whimsical. At times it play which was performed through is almost playful. "Everywoman," it central figure, whose life story in the motif of the play, is a concrete ex-ample of a beautiful, refined, accomample of a beautiful, relined, accom-plished young woman of the period. She is of our day and the yearnings which fill her soul are those of the average healthy young woman of the time. An unsatisfied longing in her heart for love—for a great over-whelming love—is the mission which whelming love—is the mission which sends her from her own fireside out into the mystery of life. Her mirror tells her that she is beautiful and flattery a personified dandy, whispers to her of a great king love who is waiting somewhere in the vast mystery of things to claim her as as his own.

Accompanied by her three hand-maids, Youth, Beauty and Modesty, she sets cut upon her pigrimage in quest of love. In pursuing her quest she visits strange places; a great city playhouse where she adopts the stage, become a leading actress, and is wooded by Passion, an actor, Wealth, a multi-millionaire, and Witness, a nobleman. She plunges into dissipa-tion burns life's candle at both ends, and in the third act is banquetted at midnight in her luxurious apartments bats of the social order her beauty has attracted. But Time bridge his changes. One after another her illusions are shattered saken by Youth, Beauty and Modesty, she wanders alone. A special symphony orciostra is carried by the organization,

AT THE THEATRES UNPATRIOTIC COURSE OF NATIVE AMERICANS

Largely Responsible for Attitude Foreign Born Citizens Says Senator Lewis.

Philadelphia, Dec. 22.-Unpatriotic influences fostered by native-born Americans, growing out of the lack f harmony among classes and resulting in "an order of universal condemnation," were held largely responsible in an address here tonight by Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, for the activities foreign-born citizens condemned fn President Wilson's recent address to congress. "It is appropriate," said Senator Lewis, who spoke before the New England society of Pennsylvania, "to call attention to the truth that the native-born American citizen been the educator of the foreign-born adopted American citizen.'

"For the last ten years," he con-"there has been nothing America which the native-born Amercan could find to praise. Everything has been unworthy of support or credit. This order of universal conlemnation has been divided into two

"First, the powerful, holding their power from wealth or the accident of position, could see nothing in the demand of the masses for justice except the cry of anarchy. They ever condemned the effort to equalize the privileges and opportunities of men as the protest of socialism. They concluded their arraignment of the poor for justice, the middle class for opportunity, and those who struggled for the acknowledgement of the laws of man and God, as either ignorance

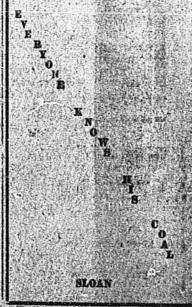

"Here began the first damnation by one set of Americans of the other class in order to avoid listening to their complaints or respective their grievances. Then followed the natural revenge. The under classes, cried out their condemnation against everything that was property or prospercus. This retaliation took the form of accusation against all lawmakers as crooks, the impeachment of officials as embezzlers, and ment and execution against all au-thority, political or religious, or possessions earned or inherited

"Then there arose in the community self-selected leaders, who to advance their ambitions for office or noisy recognition, capitalized these ings of discortent under the hue and cry of -'Down will society-Death to the courts-Contempt for the law" -a scoff at religion and a defiance of

"The result was that the last, twenty years the new-born American and th mported American has known nothing of America except that it was a place all other Americans certified there were no men of Gonor; no things of decency, no institution in which any man could have a purpose except to overthrow as being unworthy. "As a remedy we abould promptly establish by law that the right of citizen to narticinate in elections is duty; that the failure of the citizen to perform his duty at the ballot box onsecutively for a certain terith of consecutively for a certain jergin of time, should be pinished by having the right of suffrage withdrawn from him. To this there should be added the further law, enforcing upon all who have enjoyed the benefits a naturalization, the duty to compi, with citizenship as loyal Americans, and prescribing that any citizen whose conduct is such as to be unworthy conduct is such as to be unworthy, of citizenship should, upon the proof of such fact, have the citizenship withdrawn by the order of the courts. With these two remedies reserved to the government, there would be less debasement of this

Capt. Papen was appointed military attache of German embassy December 1913. Public attention was directed to film in September last when a letter he wrote to his wife was found among papers which the British government seized from James A. F. Archibald, while he was carrying them to Europe. In this lette:
Papen alluded to the "bloedssing yankees" wideh was translated as "idiotic yankees." He said this term was applied to New York newspaper publishers in whose papers his activities had been criticised.

Captain Karl Boy-Ed, the recalled German naval attache is reported as leaving December 28 on the steamer Rotterdam for Rotterdam.

Always a Minority. Representative Kitchin probabilinas his bitterest enemies in his own district and precinct. This is nothing against Mr. Kitchin, for there always is a minority in every community which is ready to fight at the drop of a hat. And sometimes the minority is run over by the machine as if it did not exist .-- Hickory Record.

The Two rarties. The Democratic party consists of optimists, Femocrats and several kinds of Independents who become intractable when there is team work to be done.
